Pixius, Inc.
Wichita, Kansas

Submitted to the
Committee on Agriculture
United States House of Representatives

July 9, 2009

Mr. Chairman, thank you very much for holding this hearing on broadband technology and its importance to rural America. Recently, I was pleased to participate in a hearing held by the Department of Health and Human Services' National Advisory Committee on Rural Health Care in Rapid City, South Dakota.

Broadband is critically important to the provision of health care services in rural America as well as other vital services including education.

I am pleased to submit for the record the statement presented to HHS in South Dakota.

Thank you very much for making this statement a part of your hearing record.
